Tax-As-You-Go Road Plan OK'd

Weeks Says Administration Wants Bill Passed In Next Session

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks declared Friday the administration is ready to accept tax-as-you-go financing, if necessary, to obtain passage of President Eisenhower's multi-billion dollar highway program in the coming session of Congress.

Weeks urged the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council, which embraces the presidents and board chairmen of scores of the country's biggest corporations not to oppose tax increases on highway users that are "fair and equitable across the board."

The secretary spoke behind closed doors at the council's fall session, but later briefed reporters on his remarks.

Weeks disclosed he has conferred with motor truck and bus operators and other highway users. He said he found that "all segments of the industry want a highway bill, and recognize that the roads must be paid for."

Not Forsaken

He said the administration has not forsaken its proposal for a government corporation which would issue highway bonds outside the federal budget—a plan quickly rejected by Congress—but is willing to compromise because the problem is urgent.

"We would accept bond financing, or a program supported entirely by taxes, or a combination of both," he said.

Weeks reported the administration wants an early start on improvement of the 40,000-mile interstate highway system and suggested that the federal aid program on other routes be maintained, with outlays "moving up year by year."

Won't Balk

The secretary indicated the administration would not balk at a measure like that of Rep. Fallon (D-Md.), which like the Eisenhower plan, was defeated last session.

The Fallon bill called for tax increases on motor fuels and tires and other direct levies on highway users. Representatives of the bus and trucking industries fought the measure, however, complaining they would foot most of the increased tax bill.

Car-Train Smash Claims 4th Victim

A car-train crash at a railroad crossing near Central City Oct. 18 claimed its fourth victim Friday. Vicki Peterson, 13, of Central City, died in a Grand Island hospital of injuries received in the accident.

Other victims were Mrs. Hubert Demel, her daughter Ann and Barbara Funk, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Funk.

The three girls, all Central City High School freshmen, were enroute to a school function when the car driven by Mrs. Demel crashed into a freight train.

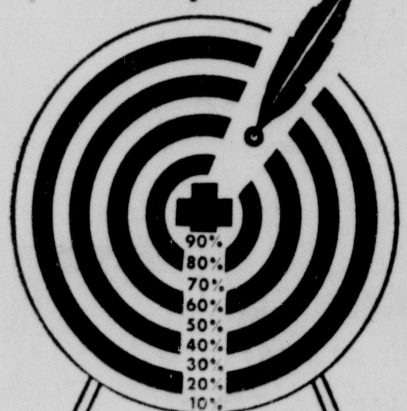

Nebraskans May See Cloudy Skies

Something different in the way of weather was forecast for Saturday. Cloudy skies were predicted for Saturday night and it was to be warmer during the day and turn cooler at night.

Highs Saturday were to be in the 70s.

Most highs reported Friday were in the 60s, with Lincoln reporting 63. However, Sidney and Chadron had high readings of 71 and 72, respectively.

Dulles Vows Unity

Secretary Ready To Meet Reds At Geneva

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles left for the Big Four foreign ministers conference Friday, vowing readiness to meet Russia's "legitimate" security concerns but not at the price of keeping Germany divided.

"Security for Russians is not inconsistent with justice for Germans," Dulles said in an airport statement.

"Indeed, we doubt that in the long run security is ever gained by perpetuating a grave injustice like the division of Germany."

The secretary's words came shortly after Sen. George (D-Ga.) told newsmen at the State Department he doubts the foreign ministers meeting at Geneva will "get much beyond" the issues of German reunification and European security. George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that not much progress can be hoped for unless these matters are settled. But once they are, George said, "you can make great progress."

Rome Visit

Traveling with Dulles were Secretary of Defense Wilson and Harold E. Stassen, presidential disarmament adviser. Dulles' first stop is Rome, where he will consult with Italian government officials before proceeding to Paris for talks with British, French and other Allied leaders in advance of their meeting the Russians Thursday.

Dulles' departure statement used more guarded words than some of his previous statements. Whereas he said last Tuesday at Denver that he and President Eisenhower shared a "measured hope" of progress at Geneva, Dulles declared Friday:

"I realize that this conference has serious implications. The foundations for it were built by the heads of government themselves.

"If we cannot build on that foundation, then many high hopes will have to be discarded."

Dr. Bail And Ann Pettis Chosen As 1955 Royalty

OMAHA (AP)—Dr. Milo Bail, president of the University of Omaha, and Miss Ann Pettis, 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pettis of Omaha, were disclosed Friday night as the 61st king and queen of Ak-Sar-Ben.

The closely guarded secret about Ak-Sar-Ben's top social and civic honors for the year was revealed at the coronation ball of the mythical kingdom of Quivera which opened the winter social season in Omaha.

Dr. Bail, 57, has headed the University of Omaha for the last seven years, during which the school's enrollment practically doubled. He was the first educator to receive the annual Ak-Sar-Ben honors.

Dr. Bail is a native of Booneville, Mo., the son of a rural letter carrier. He served in the Navy in 1918 and was graduated from Missouri Valley College, Marshall, Mo. in 1920. He taught in high schools until coming to Omaha in 1948.

Miss Pettis is a niece of Edward F. Pettis, who was King of Ak-Sar-Ben in 1951 and now is Ak-Sar-Ben president. The tall blue-eyed blonde is a graduate of Brownell Hall, Omaha and Wells College.

She has since studied at the University of Omaha and the Commercial Extension school of Commerce where she is now enrolled. Her father is an investment banker and an alumnus of the University of Nebraska. Her grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ritch Pettis, settled in Lincoln, Neb., in the 1830's.

The new monarchs succeeded Morris Jacobs and Miss Barbara Loucks on the throne of Quivera.

Grand Islander Dies In 2-Car Milford Crash

MILFORD, Neb. — Glen S. Rajewich, 22, of Grand Island was instantly killed and another man, Ken Billings, 21, of Omaha was seriously injured in a two-car collision four miles west of here on Highway 6 Friday night.

Billings was rushed to Seward Hospital where he was reported in fair condition suffering from internal conditions and lacerations to his head and legs.

Safety Patrolman Cletus Kart-hausen said Rajewich was driving a car west on Highway 6 when the car failed to make a curve. Rajewich, the patrolman said, lost control of the car and it struck a glancing blow at a car stopped on a county road waiting to enter the intersection. The Rajewich vehicle then rolled over several times into a 10-foot ditch landing on its wheels, Karthausen said.

No one in the stopped car—in which Loren Troyer, 24, of Beaver crossing, his wife, Verba, and two children, Larry, 2, and Rebekah, 5 months, were riding was injured.

Both Billings and Rajewich were found in the front seat of the demolished vehicle.

The patrolman said the steering column of the vehicle had apparently crushed the chest of the dead man.

Princess Still Undecided Whether To Marry 40-Year-Old Commoner

... Margaret Goes Partying Again With Peter Townsend

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret was reported still undecided Friday night whether to marry Peter Townsend. But she went partying again with the 40-year-old divorced commoner.

The princess and her handsome war hero drove separately to the downtown home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Brand. Mrs. Brand is the former Laura Smith of a wealthy British bookstore family.

Townsend went to the party with Mark Bonham Carter, husband of the former Lady St. Just, divorced daughter of the late American publisher Conde Nast.

Margaret was driven there alone in a royal limousine.

Love and Duty
Their meeting—the eighth in the past nine days—came as an informant in a position to know said Margaret, torn between love and duty, still has to reach the final momentous decision on her future.

The 25-year-old princess, this informant said, has won royal assent to see the 40-year-old divorced commoner openly while she makes up her mind. Her sister, Queen Elizabeth II, and the Queen Mother agreed to give her time.

The informant, who declined to be quoted by name, said Townsend is showing sympathetic understanding of the princess' dilemma. He has said repeatedly that the final decision rests with her.

She was reported to have been firm several months ago in her intention to marry Townsend, but to have wavered later in the face of obstacles looming ever larger, such as the opposition of the Church of England.

It called "the facts" of the affair as they now stand.

"The princess and Peter Townsend are talking things over at their meetings together," it said. "They are discussing the representations that have been made to them and all the complications that face them."

"Their meetings are approved by the royal family, who realize this is the first time in two years they have been able to talk over the future in private."

"The decision, as Townsend has said repeatedly, cannot come from him."

"It must come from the princess."

"She will decide whether or not they go through with their wish to marry."

Says Hard-Pressed Farms Face A Real Emergency

PARTY CHIEF CONFERS WITH STATE DEMOS

From Press Dispatches

OMAHA — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler Friday night accused the Republican administration of giving hard-pressed farmers of the nation "nothing but talk about rugged individualism and moral fibre."

He said the administration apparently feels bound to protect the farmer only against what Agriculture Secretary Benson calls "undue disaster."

"The agriculture situation is a real emergency," Butler told a dinner attended by some 300 Nebraska Democrats.

'Must Sink'

Yet, he declared, farm prices "must sink much lower before the Republicans will intervene."

He attributed to Benson a statement that sensible farmers are making an adjustment "to the situation."

"They are going to adjust Mr. Benson right out of the Department of Agriculture" in the next election, he said.

Down $2 Billion

Butler said net income of the farm has declined more than two billion dollars since 1952 and that in that time farm prices have fallen off 20 per cent.

"Farm costs are close to their record high," he said and farmer's debts are up while their assets are down.

Parity—the relation of the price a farmer gets for his products to the prices he pays for the things he buys—has dropped from 102 per cent to 84 per cent since 1952, he said.

Butler quoted Secretary Benson as saying he had been advised that supports are not yet needed for hogs.

Not Low Enough

A $14 a hundredweight price on hogs "is not low enough to disturb him," the Democratic chairman added.

"Secretary Benson's carefully picked advisory committees, loaded with non-farmers, have invariably taken their stands against assisting the farmers realistically," he said.

In a digression from his farm remarks, Butler said that some newspaper publishers have taken freedom of the press to mean freedom "to include or exclude what he wants."

"We believe in freedom of press for readers," he said, adding that editorship of a newspaper is "a repository of public trust."

World-Herald Scored

He said the Omaha World Herald was "thoroughly partial and unfair in its coverage of political news."

The speech climaxed a day of attacks on the Republican handling of the farm situation.

Earlier Butler told a press conference in Omaha that the Republicans had failed to live up to their 1952 campaign promises to maintain farm price supports at 90 per cent of parity, reduce taxes and balance the budget.

He said also that President Eisenhower's popularity was "tarnished" after nearly three years in office.

The Democratic chairman declared that the President's illness had not affected the Democrats' campaign plans but added that some party leaders "may feel more confident about 1956 than they did before."

Butler believes the farm problem will be the major issue of next year's election campaign.

Won't Forget

"The farmers won't forget that the administration has ignored them for two and a half years," he said.

The Democratic chairman said that in his current tour of the country he has found farmers "distressed" in all sections and particularly so in the corn, wheat and livestock areas of the midwest.

"Something has to be done to stop the day-to-day decline of the market," he asserted.

Nebraska May Swing

Butler said that Nebraska, long regarded as a GOP stronghold, "may be in for some surprises" next year. After talking to state party leaders, he said, he felt the Democrats might possibly win one or two congressional seats next year and elect a Democratic governor.

Butler was slated to address a dinner in his honor and then go to Des Moines for a Democratic Farm Conference.

NU Prof Dr. Mitchell Outlines His Ag Plan To Democrat Parley

OMAHA (AP)—C. Clyde Mitchell, chairman of the Department of Agricultural Economics at the University of Nebraska, Friday outlined to Democrats meeting here the essentials of what he feels would be a correct agricultural program.

"The proper place to attack maladjustment of production and consumption is at the consumption end," Mitchell said.

The program would include "adequately-financed plans to distribute healthful foods to all our citizens who are not able, because of low incomes, to pay for a good diet."

Surpluses

"Surplus crops, he said, should also be used as "part of well-rounded program of economic development administered through the United Nations" in the underdeveloped nations."

"Correct use demands that the American goods be funneled mainly into educational channels to support large-scale vocational training programs among the youth," he said.

Roughly one year's crop production should be kept in "security storage" in order to carry out these commitments, Mitchell said.

Easy Credit

He also advocated easy credit for low-income farmers.

Mitchell said "somewhere between two and three million low-income farm families would need an average of $5,000 in new credit to finance the reorganization of their farms for efficient production." He said this would take a 16 billion to 15 billion dollar program.

Within 5 to 10 years, Mitchell said, "the problem of poverty in agriculture should be fairly adequately solved."

Only after these things have been done "can we with economic or political success abandon any significant part of our price-support programs," he said.

Mitchell said his program was non-partisan and available to both political parties.

Keep Politics Off The Farm, Says Weaver

Rep. Phil Weaver (R) of Falls City, Friday declared "let's keep partisan politics out of this vital issue" of the farm problem.

Weaver's Lincoln office released a copy of a message he sent to National Democratic Chairman Paul Butler, in Omaha for conferences with state party leaders.

Weaver noted that Butler had been quoted as saying he didn't think the Nebraska Congressman's proposal to subsidize the cost of items the farmer buys was the answer to the farm problem.

"I personally, Mr. Butler, am disappointed in the constant criticism leveled by the leaders of your party without constructive suggestions on how to solve the critical agricultural problem," the Weaver message continued.

"In the language of midwestern people, we think this is a time to 'face up to the situation' or remain silent until you have a definite proposal to make."

"I am impressed with the non-partisan and unbiased approach the farmers of Nebraska are giving to these problems. Whether or not a farmer has enough clothes to wear or receives sufficient money to buy the necessities of life is hardly a partisan party issue."

Ike Okays Renewed War On Crime

Politics Shunned

... Brownell Says

DENVER (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell, a top administration political strategist, saw President Eisenhower Friday—and said he got approval of a six-point program for war on crime and improved handling of federal criminal cases.

Brownell spent 25 minutes with the chief executive at Fitzsimons Army Hospital.

The man who played a major behind-the-scenes role in swinging the Republican presidential nomination to Eisenhower in 1952, told a news conference afterwards there was no discussion of politics.

To a question whether he thinks the President will run for another term next year, Brownell replied: "Well, I think while the President is on the way to full health and strength it would be inappropriate for anybody to make comment on that."

So the conference revolved almost entirely around the Justice Department's program in the field of criminal law for next year. Brownell said Eisenhower approved it in full and it includes:

1. A request to Congress for a law making it a crime to invade the privacy of juries while they are considering cases. This grew out of the recently disclosed wiretapping of jury deliberations at Wichita, Kan., as part of a study of jury operations by the University of Chicago.

2. Proposed legislation to establish a system of paid public defenders—hundreds of them serving on a full or part time basis—to protect the rights of persons who can't afford to hire lawyers in federal cases.

3. Steps to cut down delays in federal courts. The aim is to reduce the backlog of cases by 25 per cent. Task forces of lawyers will be sent from Washington into congested districts and Congress will be asked to authorize the appointment of some 20 new federal judges.

4. Building a new 9½-million-dollar "maximum security" prison to relieve the load on overcrowded Alcatraz, Atlanta and Leavenworth.

5. Constructing a 7½-million-dollar correction center for youthful criminals to serve the area west of the Mississippi River. The only existing center, at Ashland, Ky., handles youths from east of the Mississippi.

State Sen. Leaves Iowa; Can Make More In Nebraska

DES MOINES (AP) — State Sen. Charles S. Van Eaton (R-Sioux City) declared here Friday he is closing out his interests in Iowa "because it is easier to accumulate money in Nebraska and South Dakota."

Van Eaton, who operates a group of food stores, was among members of the Legislature who appeared before the Iowa Tax Study Committee. Others included Rep. Jack Miller (R-Sioux City) and T. J. Frey (R-Neola).

Expressing dissatisfaction with Iowa tax laws Van Eaton said that tax statutes of Iowa's two neighboring states are more favorable to business. He asserted that if people keep moving out of Iowa "those who remain will have to pay more taxes."

Frey told the committee that many thousands of Iowans are evading state income taxes completely. He estimated that in Pottawattamie County (Council Bluffs alone) "5,000 to 6,000 people who work in Nebraska have never filed a state income tax return."

Puppe, who has been in the commercial beekeeping business since 1942, had never before entered the National Honey Show. The Puppes have over 3,000 colonies of bees. The average produce from each colony is about 120 pounds a season. Gov. Anderson has proclaimed the week of Oct. 24 through 31 as Nebraska Honey Week. In his proclamation he said Nebraska farmers are to be commended not only for their fine job of producing honey, but also for the contribution bees make in pollinating many of Nebraska's agricultural crops such as legumes and fruits. MORRIS ROAMS QUESTION FIELD IN RADIOTHON

By AL EDEE Star Staff Writer

George Morris, former Men's Reformatory superintendent fired by the Board of Control, said on a radio show Friday night that "Boy, I don't know" when asked if he could get along with the present Board of Control if he were reinstated in his former job.

"I'm going to cross that bridge when I come to it," Morris said. Morris spoke over a local radio station during a telephone question and answer program. Morris took calls coming into the station and answered them on the spot. The program lasted 2 hours and 15 minutes.

The controversial former penal official said he "didn't know" whether his coming hearing before the Board of Control could be appealed.

"You'll have to ask the lawyers on that," he said.

Morris stated he "had no intention of running for governor at this time," when asked if he was planning such a political move.

Airplane Explodes, 5 Killed

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — A private plane exploded and crashed in flames in this north central Pennsylvania region Friday, killing five persons.

State police said those aboard the single engine Beechcraft Bonanza were Dr. Marven O. Larsen, 35, of Middletown, N.Y.; his wife, Dorothy 36; their two children, Marven Dean, 18 months, and Karen, 4 and Russell Gowdey, of Bloomingburg, N.Y., near Middletown. Gowdey was described as a business associate of Dr. Larsen.

Cpl. Earl Moore, of the state police, said information that these five were in the plane came from the Middletown Airport where the plane took off for Pittsburgh.

Dr. Earl Miller of Lyncoming County was on the scene but none of the bodies had been officially identified.

The plane exploded in view of several farmers and fell on the chicken farm of John E. Hart. The crash site is about 20 miles east of Williamsport, between Hughesville and Picture Rocks, near the community of Shady Nook.

State police and CAA investigators from the Williamsport Airport were still trying to recover the bodies almost three hours after the crash.

Named historian was Mrs. LaVern Rockenbach of Lincoln, and Mrs. Ray Craig, Lincoln, was elected health leader.

Sagaser Asks For Acquittal In Riot Case

Penitentiary Inmate Gilbert Sagaser has asked the Lancaster District Court for acquittal on second-degree arson charges, notwithstanding the jury verdict, or for a new trial.

The inmate was found guilty Oct. 13 by a jury on the charge in connection with the Aug. 16 prison riot and fire.

The motion, filed by his court-appointed attorney W. W. Nuernberger, alleges the prosecuting attorneys were listed as state witnesses on the information and were allowed to actively participate in the trial over the defendant's objections, a procedure which was prejudicial.

The defense also contends the state failed to prove the crime as charged in the information and the verdict was contrary to law.

Nuernberger asks that Donald Kanzler be appointed as co-counsel in the case as his assistance was necessary for proper preparation of the case's defense and will be necessary for presentation of the motion for acquittal or a new trial.

The motions will probably be heard by the court at a later date. The trials of four other Penitentiary inmates on arson charges are pending.

Ex-Lincolnite Dietetic Group President Elect

Lincoln Star Special

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Lucille Refshaug, former Lincolnite, has been named president-elect of the American Dietetic Association. Announcement was made at the association's annual banquet here Friday night.

After serving as president-elect for a year, Miss Refshaug will become head of the association for the following term.

Miss Refshaug is now director of the department of dietetics at Hartford Hospital, Hartford, Conn. She served as speaker of the group's house of delegates during 1952-53 and has been educational director of the association.

In 1947, she represented the association at the first national conference of UNESCO.

Miss Refshaug is the daughter of J. J. Refshaug of 2434 Park, Lincoln.

She is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and received her master's degree from the Teachers College, Columbia University. She is a member of Iota Sigma Pi, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Lambda Theta and Delta Gamma.

Couple Alleges Sterilizing Failed

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — A Decatur couple sued a surgeon for $60,000 Friday after alleged failure of sterilization operations.

The suit, filed in Macon County Circuit Court by Walter Bledsaw, 32, and his wife, Dorothy, 30, related that Dr. Max Schlosser operated on them both Jan. 27, 1954. Bledsaw said they decided on surgery because he had to hold two full-time jobs to support his wife and five children.

A sixth child, a daughter, was born April 2 this year.

Bledsaw asked $25,000 for "raising, maintaining and educating" his youngest daughter. Mrs. Bledsaw asked $35,000 damages for compensation because of pains, inconvenience and illness during pregnancy, pains of childbirth, and suffering and expense resulting from a second sterilization operation.

City Credit Drops Slightly In National Investment Book

By BILL DOBLER Star Staff Writer

Lincoln's financial rating with Moody's Investment Service has slipped from triple A to double A. Moody's is a nationally recognized financial service operated out of New York.

City officials have as yet been unable to find the reason for the lower rating. Triple A is the highest possible rating and enjoyed by only a comparatively few number of cities.

It is believed by some, however, that the lower rate for Lincoln is due to heavy bond sales of recent years and a high indebtedness. The past few years have brought the sale of $16 million in school bonds and $7 million in bonds of the city.

What effect, if any, the lower rating will have on future issues is also an unknown factor. Finance Director Theo Berg said there are many things other than the Moody's rating which determine the rate of interest on bonds.

Of prime importance, he said, is the brochure prepared for prospective bond buyers on the condition and operation of the city.

66 Acres Next To Base Sold For Runway

The Omaha District, Corps of Engineers has acquired 66 acres of land adjacent to the Lincoln Air Force Base for extension of the major runway there.

The Corps received a directive authorizing it to spend $27,000 on the land. Options on the property were then immediately exercised.

The entire tract was obtained without a single condemnation suit. The 2,300 foot extension of the runway will take that concrete slab into the right-of-way of Highway 34 and the Burlington tracks north of the Base.

Still Negotiating — Negotiations are still under way for government financial participation in the relocation of the highway and the railroad.

If the relocation problems are solved without difficulty, it is expected that a contract for the runway extension would be let in January of 1956.

The Omaha District has also announced that Kingery Construction Co. of Lincoln is the apparent low bidder at $340,000 on construction of an armament and electronics shop at the LAFB.

Other Lincoln firms submitting a bid were:

George Cook Construction Co., $349,600.

Olson Construction Co., $351,666.

Wilson Construction Co., $359,741.

The only other bidder was Korsh Construction Co. of Blair, Neb., at $359,558. The government's estimate was $340,750.

A contract is expected to be awarded on the job within two weeks with completion of the project mandatory within 395 days of the contract award.

The work will include a 178 by 144 foot building, complete with sidewalks, paving and utilities.

Violations Of Parole Have Jumped—Vic

Gov. Victor Anderson said Friday the percentage of convicts violating parole from penal institutions early this year was running only 10 to 15 per cent. The percentage in the past two months has risen sharply, he declared.

"I'm not interested in what happened last year. I say that when we lose as many as a third of our parolees, that's too many," he continued.

Correctional officers long have argued that if 10 per cent or less violate the terms of parole the boards are too strict and too few men are being given an opportunity to be self-sufficient. If the percentage is over 30 they contend the screening is not strict enough.

The governor said the board is anxious to find out "what's wrong" to cause the increase in parole violations. Between now and the next meeting, Nov. 2, he said he will meet with law enforcement officers of Omaha and Lincoln and representatives of sheriffs and county attorneys to obtain their views.

He said that the board wants an opportunity to "take another look" at the parole system and that is the reason action on 15 applicants at the Penitentiary was deferred at the meeting Wednesday. He said some may be granted after further investigation.

Hoover Resource Report 'Somewhat A Disparity'

... Says Commission Ex-Member By ELLIS RALL Star Staff Writer

The Hoover Commission's "Water Resources and Power" report was "somewhat a disparity" from the original report submitted to it, a former member of the group that prepared the original report said Friday in Lincoln.

Harry E. Polk of Williston, N.D., former president of the National Reclamation Association, discussed the Commission report Friday in a closed meeting of the board of directors of the Reclamation association.

The board is composed of one man from each of the 17 member states in the association. Representatives from Kansas and New Mexico representatives were not present.

The meeting was a preliminary to the three-day 24th annual convention of the association which opens Monday in Lincoln. Between 700 and 900 are expected to attend.

Polk told newsmen, following the closed meeting, that the final report in parts, was not the same as the original report submitted.

Expected To Draw Fire The Hoover report, under study by the association's water resources committee, is expected to draw some criticism from the group.

William E. Welsh of Washington, D.C., secretary-manager of the association said "it would be safe to say" that the Hoover report will not be accepted in its entirety by the association.

Calling for several restrictions of federal development of the nation's water resources, the report failed even to win unanimous support from members of the Hoover Commission.

A formal stand on phases of the report, released last June, is expected to come out of next week's 24th annual convention.

Plea Renewed For Hike In Power Rates

Improvements Needed Says G. Gentleman

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. —Ger-ald Gentleman, general manager of the Platte Valley Public power and Irrigation District, Friday re-newed his proposal that the Ne-braska Public Power System, be allowed to raise its rates to enable it to finance needed improvements more easily.

At the same time he expressed the belief that such a rate increase would not necessitate any increase in rates to the ultimate user of the electricity.

Gentleman stated his views in a letter to Ray Schacht of Columbus, general manager of Consumers Public Power District, which is an important customer of NPPS.

Gentleman proposes a rate in-crease of four-tenths of a mill per kilowatt-hour.

Eliminate Board
He suggests also that the budget board, which has veto powers, be eliminated from the system's ad-ministrative set-up.

These two steps, he believes, would make it easier for the sys-tem to obtain the financing needed for improvements which he says "just can't be put off."

Gentleman first outlined his pro-posals in a memorandum to Gov. Anderson.

Schacht in a letter to Gentleman a few days later said there should be a consolidation of the power districts and questioned whether Consumers could absorb an in-crease in the rate it pays NPPS without passing the increase on to the user.

Gentleman, replying Friday to Schacht, enclosed an analysis of Consumers' revenues which he said indicates such an increase could be absorbed without raising rates to the user of the electricity.

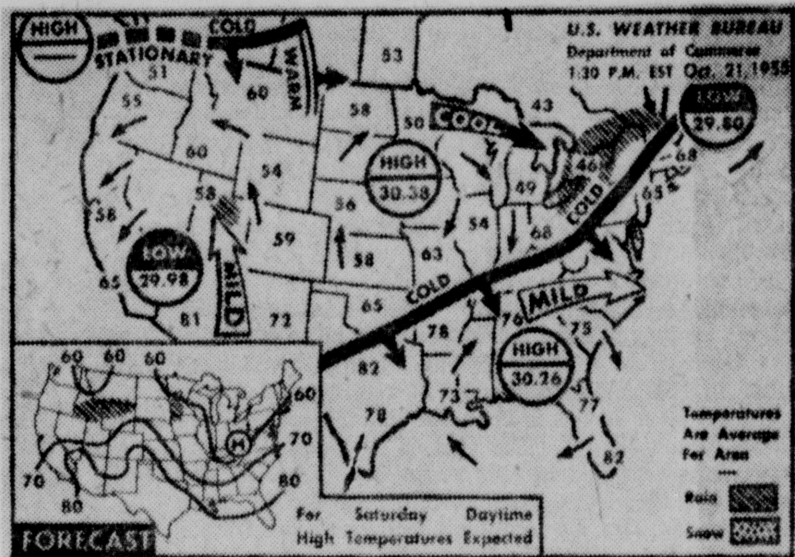

He recalled a proposal last win-ter to integrate the state's power facilities into two systems with Grand Island as the dividing line. He recalled a later proposal to merge all facilities into one state-wide system.

Padlock Action Considered In Call Girl Case

OMAHA —Four persons, ar-rested after a North Platte man complained he paid a girl $700 for dates, have been arrested and will be charged, police said Friday, while city and county authorities considered possibility of a padlock action against the hotel involved.

Those taken into custody gave the names of Mary Rae Adams, 22, of Nettleton, Mo., Otto H. Rose, 51, hotel bellhop, Mae Pilkins, 57, manager of the Newhall Hotel, and Lou Redden, 29, boy friend of the young woman.

Moral squad Sgt. Walter Wilson said Miss Adams would be charged with prostitution, the bell-hop as a procurer, Mae Pilkins with keeping a common ill-gov-erned house and Redden with va-grancy.

The North Platte man was quoted by police as saying he had paid a girl $700 for dates on Tuesday and Wednesday nights at the New-hall Hotel, but that on Wednesday night she left and failed to re-turn. His complaint brought an in-vestigation which resulted in the four arrests.

Police Chief Harry Green said he would have Sgt. Wilson confer with County Attorney Fitzgerald about further action. Wilson had suggested the possibility of a pad-lock action against the Newhall Hotel.

Native Nebraskan Appointed Chief Cop Internal Revenue

WASHINGTON — A native Nebraskan will serve as chief cop for the Internal Revenue Service.

J. Perry August, 46, who was born at Dorchester, was appointed by Commissioner T. Coleman An-drews to head the Revenue Ser-vice's intelligence division.

August is an 18-year career man with the service, and recently has been assistant regional director in charge of intelligence at the Re-venue Service regional office in Dallas.

A graduate of the University of Wyoming, August entered govern-ment service after taking a postgraduate law course at the uni-versity.

He began with the Bureau of Reclamation in 1934, transferring in 1937 to Internal Revenue as special agent in charge of the Denver office in March, 1952, and assumed the Dallas regional post July 1, 1953.

As head of the intelligence divi-sion, the ex-Nebraskan will be responsible for police work in-volved in ferretting out tax eva-sion among the nation's 60 million taxpayers. His salary will be about $14,000 a year.

Dr. Martin Prescribes

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Some day—but not presently—we intend to write what we believe to be the true story of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's decision to retire from the presidency at the conclusion of his second term. From information in our possession, it is and it has always been our belief that, weary of office and its crushing burdens, F.D.R. yearned to return to his beloved Hyde Park.

President Eisenhower is well along the road toward recovery from an attack of coronary thrombosis, and for that the American people are deeply grateful. Each day and each week the President seems to get a little bit stronger. The restrictions on his activities imposed by his doctors are being lifted gradually.

But the President's greatest tribulation is still ahead of him.

In Washington the news columns revealed that House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. thinks another term in the White House may be just exactly what the President needs. It might be less of a strain than spending four years on the Gettysburg farm which the President owns,

Mr. Martin said. Then warming to his subject, the former speaker of the House said Mr. Eisenhower would be a shoo-in for election, that he could win next year in a walk, with no real campaign and with no strain, at all. Three or four television and radio programs, and that would be it, Mr. Martin added.

Martin may possess powers denied other people. In these closing weeks of 1955 he may know what conditions of employment will be in the fall of 1956—he may have an inside tip on what farm production will be—not only production but farm commodity prices. Someone may have taken him aside and briefed him with unerring accuracy on world developments.

But what he was saying is only a part—and a very small part—of Republican pressure on Mr. Eisenhower in the months ahead. The line is forming already. It will be an easy campaign, the President will be told. He owes it to the party to say "yes" to the demands of its leaders that he again become its spokesman.

We think in all good season Mr. Eisenhower will indicate his own desires and his own feeling about a candidacy for re-election. But in convalescence it is not an easy spot he occupies.

Time To Get Tough

At a recent meeting of the Nebraska Parole Board, Gov. Anderson was quoted to the effect that he himself felt the time had come to get tough when it came to dishing out paroles. This is only to approve his position and to add, more power to him.

Basically it is not a question whether there were one or two more parole violations in the last month or the last six months than a year ago. The point is, there are too many people shown clemency in the administration of paroles who do not deserve it at the time they were given an opportunity to rejoin the ranks of useful citizens. When they again fell victim to temptation to go wrong, that was it, and the people who bore the brunt of that unwise decision are the members of organized society. We are not interested in whether one or two fewer paroles fell from grace than the number who did a year ago. If one or two fewer violated their paroles, the only importance of that is that the parole board used better judgment in giving men who committed crimes their freedom.

Notwithstanding the disposition on the part of the parole officials to split hairs, we hope that Gov. Anderson continues in his policy of toughness. His attitude could only contribute to a greater respect for the system of parole.

Weaker Than Its Parts

The French government under Edgar Faure received a temporary reprieve when the Chamber of Deputies voted 308 to 254 to keep it in office during the Foreign Ministers meeting which begins in Geneva October 27.

Some observers say it was less a vote of confidence for Faure than it was a realization that a collapsed government during the conference and pending the outcome of the Moroccan crisis would just about finish France as a major power.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It's a good question, one whale of a good question. But before getting to it, this is to call attention to a letter written by Logan A. Rogers, a Lancaster County pioneer citizen, telling of a closed-door session in a hotel room in Des Moines recently, with a representative of Secretary of Agriculture Benson seated in an adjoining room. That closed-door session was not publicized to any considerable extent.

In July in the closing days of Congress, Mr. Rogers writes, a Senate bill to increase the borrowing power of the Commodity Credit Corporation from $10 billion to $12 billion came up in the House and when Dr. (A. L.) Miller of Nebraska asked what happened to the money received from products the Commodity Credit Corporation sold, he did not receive an answer from the members present. That serves him right. The Fourth District Nebraskan has been back there long enough to know full well he should not be going around asking questions, especially if those questions could prove embarrassing to an administration dedicated to balancing the budget before the next election gets under way. It is not that a single penny has been used improperly or misused. That is not the issue. No doubt every cent derived from the sale of Commodity Credit Corporation products has been handled with an eye upon the public's interest. It could be simply a question of bookkeeping. Has the money taken in by the corporation on the sale of products been applied to its debts or the nation's debts, or has it been turned in to the general fund to be used in connection with the daily running expenses of government? Under this administration we wound up the affairs of RFC. We sold the barge lines. We took in $33 million in the sale of gasoline plants engaged in the production of synthetic gasoline. We have been divesting ourselves of assets, turning them back to private enterprise, and it has never been clear how the money derived from these sales was used.

If such funds should not be utilized to meet the running expenses of government then naturally it would be necessary for the administration to borrow more heavily in its daily operation. It could slash the debt to the extent of all funds so received, but if not applied to the daily cost of government, it would be necessary to borrow that much more. Uncle Sam would wind up at the point from which he started.

Nevertheless we do have a much more realistic, accurate picture of the accomplishments of every administration if the funds received from the sale of assets or resources are applied to debt instead of daily operating costs. The debt itself, as in the instance of the products of the Commodity Credit Corporation, are the results of its activity.

If there is to be any accurate knowledge of the costs of that activity, any funds received from the sale of its products must be applied to offset the debts incurred in its operations. The improved budget picture could represent nothing more than the revenue received from the sale of assets running into the hundreds of millions or the billions. Doc Miller's failure to get an answer to his question could mean that his colleagues did not pay even the slightest attention to him. It could mean that none of his colleagues knew the facts sufficiently well to answer him. Or it could mean, if there were those who had the information, that they thought it just as well that he be ignored.

It is still a good question: What happens to the money taken in the sale of products sold by the Commodity Credit Corporation?

DREW PEARSON

Dying Davila A Symbol Of Peace

WASHINGTON — A great man lay dying. He did not know it. The world did not know it. And for a time, the world, unknowing, did not seem to care. . . . The October sun filtered in through the blinds of the bedroom and fell on his bed. Children's voices came up from the street below. The play-by-play account of a football game droned on from a near-by radio. . . . The world, busy with its own joys, its own pain, paid scant attention to the death struggle of a man who had helped make history in the Western hemisphere, whose life for a generation had been inextricably interwoven with the ups and downs of peace and war in the Americas.

Carlos Davila's eyes still burned bright as I sat beside him. They seemed even brighter because the sockets were deep, his face drawn, his body emaciated. He has been sick a long time. . . . He did not look like the dapper little ambassador who had solved a world-famous social controversy by escorting Dolly Gann, sister of the vice-president, in to dinner ahead of Alice Longworth, wife of the speaker. . . . He was Chilean ambassador then. . . . That was a day when the world had little to worry about — no depression, no European wars, no encroaching Communism in Asia, no foreign aid — just the fact that the Hoover administration would not decide who should sit where at dinner until after Carlos Davila, following two futile meetings of the full diplomatic corps, grasped the bull by the horns and Dolly Gann by the arm, and solved it for them.

HONEST EX-PRESIDENT

He always hated to have me recall that he had once been the arbiter of social crisis, and I did not recall it to him on that October afternoon. We talked of other things. . . . How, when exiled as President of Chile he had tried to find a job in the U.S.A. . . . of Karl Bickel, who had helped him, and Joshua Powers, who also helped. . . . and Roy Howard. . . . Bickel was head of the United Press in those days and got Davila a job writing a column for Latin-American newspapers for about $50 a week. . . . Davila did not mention it, but I knew he well remembered how most Latin-American presidents leave office only after protecting their financial future. He did not. . . . He had given Chile 100 days of honest, vital reform—reform which still remains; had come to the United States to work, scrip, save the rest of his life. I know because I sometimes advanced him the railroad fare between New York and Washington. . . . And now in the autumn of his years, for the first time since he left the president's palace in Santiago, he had security. A year ago he had become head of the Pan American Union. . . . and he was dying.

The old man was fighting for his breath now. And yet he wasn't old. His face was drawn, pathetically drawn. But his eyes were full of determination. . . . On the wall were pictures of younger days when that determination had settled great crises. . . . One was of Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg congratulating Davila on the final settlement of the Tacna-Arica dispute. Chile and Peru had been on the verge of war. Troops were mobilized, skirmishes occurred, Gens. John J. Pershing and William Lassiter, our most famed military men, both went to South America, both failed to stop the festering war. . . . Then Davila proposed a few common-sense ideas, arranged a cooling off period, got the two countries trading together. Gradually they became among the best friends in the Americas.

DYNAMIC CRUSADER FOR PEACE

Outside, in the fading October sunshine, the brilliant Inca tile of the Pan American Union also seemed faded and discouraged. The Union would be more faded when Davila died. . . . But the parrot in the palm tree in the patio seemed just as cocky, just as unconcerned as the children who played in the street outside. He had lived 100 years, had seen directors of the Pan American Union come and go, had watched the diplomats gather to prevent war in the Chaco, had been awakened only last winter when Davila as director of the Pan American Union summoned 21 ambassadors to meet all night to stop war between Nicaragua and Costa Rica. . . . Davila stopped that war. . . . By 4 a.m. a plane was warming up at the National Airport to carry five ambassadors to Central America. Never had there been such dynamic, drastic action for peace. . . . Afterward Davila asked me, asked other newsmen to give credit to other envoys. They deserved it. . . . but we know, they knew, that he was the man who deserved it most. "There is so much to be done," the old man sighed, "and so little time to do it." . . . The October sun was sinking, his life was ebbing, and he did not know it. His great ambition was peace; to bring more unity between the United States and Latin Americans. He had worked at this so hard that in Chile he could not run for president again. Chileans considered him an adopted gringo — too good a friend of the United States. . . . Yet the State Department considered him too avid in his devotion to Pan America.

ARCH DONOVAN

In Step With The Sower

Usually the unhappy taxpayer simply gripes and offers no better plan for the administration of state government. The exception showed up this week—with suggestions.

He frequently visits the Statehouse and is familiar with the crowded conditions in the various offices due to a new services for the people by the Legislature. While he does not concede all are necessary, the taxpayer admits that those in other occupations may not agree.

The taxpayer sees it as inevitable that Nebraska will have to follow the example of other states and build an office building. But, after a look at his tax receipt, he remarked that it might be advisable to wait and see if building costs become lower.

In the meantime, the taxpayer suggests that Nebraska might well follow the example of our sister state of Iowa before it built its new office building.

He recalls that in Iowa several governors were residents of Des Moines, the capital, and did not choose to give up their own homes and live in the state mansion. Gov. Victor Anderson has not moved into the Nebraska mansion.

The Iowa official residence of governors was turned into an office building until the new offices were constructed. "Why can't Nebraska do the same and relieve the overcrowded Capitol?" he inquires.

The taxpayer who has traveled considerably in other states says if the mansion does not provide enough room, the system used by other states could be used until such time as an office building can be built.

He explains that these states, like Nebraska, had large, old houses just across the street from their center of government. These were purchased by the state and converted into office buildings for various departments pending the appropriation of money and building of state office buildings.

He mentioned in particular that this system had been used in Tennessee and Arizona among others. Louisiana found after building one new office building that it was not sufficient, and constructed another.

"Nebraska could not lose through the process of buying houses for office buildings," he pointed out. "They would provide space for future needed office buildings."

"If buildings do not have to be built on all of the land purchased," he says, "after offices are provided the old buildings could be removed or razed and the land used for parking space for motor vehicles. With the Statehouse so close to the business district, parking will steadily become more and more of a problem."

Einer Viren, noted commuter from his old home at Holdrege and Lincoln, where he served as railway commissioner, and Omaha, where he now practices law, was attending to business at the Statehouse and making disparaging remarks about William Shakespeare who wrote:

"What's in a name? That which we call a rose

"By any other name would smell as sweet."

Among other activities, Viren says he and a partner own a grain elevator at Onawa, Ia. They were seeking a name for the operating corporation. The partner glanced at a photograph on Viren's desk and suggested naming the company after his daughter.

Viren says he and his partner have lived as neighbors for a number of years and both have daughters of the same age who are great friends so they chose the name Mary-Ann, Inc., using both girls names.

Recently, he says he was in Chicago on business of the elevator with a federal agency and a railroad. He gave his name but attracted little interest from the receptionists. He then explained that he represented Mary-Ann, Inc., and received a big smile and a phone call to the official with whom he had business.

"Mary Ann ink is here," she reported and it was the password to all officials.

"The name was so unusual in the grain trade that everyone knew it and was curious while none of them knew a little fellow like me," Viren explained.

"Most of them had daughters and I found several were named either Mary or Ann and the result was friendships and good relations because we had something in common. There is a lot in a name, even that of a soulless corporation."

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Hail, Thou Once Despised Jesus

Hail, Thou once despised Jesus!
Hail! Thou Galilean King!
Thou didst suffer to release us;
Thou didst free salvation bring!
Hail, Thou agonizing Savior,
Bearer of our sin and shame!
By Thy merits we find favor;
Life is given through Thy name.

Precious Lamb, by God appointed,
All our sins on Thee were laid;
By almighty love anointed,
Thou hast full atonement made;
All thy people are forgiven
Through the virtue of Thy blood,
Opened is the gate of heaven.
Peace is made 'twixt man and God.

Worship, honor, power and blessing,
Thou art worthy to receive;
Loudest praises without ceasing
Meet it is for us to give;
Help, ye bright angelic spirits,
Bring your sweetest, noblest lays,
Help to sing the Savior's merits,
Help to chant Immanuel's praise.

Here is a hymn which tells in song the story of Christ's atoning death on Calvary's cross to bring salvation to a sinful world. The significance of His atonement to mankind is stressed in the opening stanzas and the closing verses of the hymn are devoted to a glorification of the Savior.

"Hail, Thou Once Despised Jesus" was written nearly two centuries ago by John Bakewell, an English lay preacher who had been won to Christianity by the great Methodist leader, John Wesley. It is said to have been published in abbreviated form in London in 1737 and it appeared again—this time in its entirety—in a collection of "Psalms And Hymns" which was brought out by the Rev. Martin Madan of London in 1760.

Bakewell, who wrote many other fine songs for Christians besides the one cited here, was born at Brailsford, in Derbyshire, England in 1721. He was made a lay preacher in 1749 and became one of Wesley's most consecrated workers. It was in his home that Thomas Olivers wrote his famous hymn, "The God Of Abraham Praise."

When Bakewell died in 1819 at the age of 98, he was buried in City Road Chapel, in London, not far from the tomb of Wesley. On the hymnist's tombstone his friends inscribed the legend: "He adorned the doctrines of God our Saviour 80 years, and preached His glorious gospel about 70 years."

Iowa Farm Picture

Chariton, Iowa

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The farmers of Iowa have had the pleasure of finding out what the governors of several of the best agricultural states think about the present farm program and what effect it is having on agriculture.

It appears they had a closed-door session in a hotel room in Des Moines, with a representative of Secretary Benson sitting in an adjoining room, and that notes were passed back and forth between the governors and the assistant secretary (contents of notes not published). Daniel Turner, a Republican and ex-governor of Iowa, one of the leaders in opposition to Secretary Benson, was not complimentary in his remarks about the meeting.

Mr. Turner is an elderly man who served in an Iowa regiment in the Philippine Islands during the Spanish-American War, and has large farming interests in southwest Iowa and is an outspoken foe of Secretary Benson. Also speaking against Mr. Benson was a former Democratic governor, Nelson G. Kraschel, so the Democrats and Republicans are in accord in condemning the farm policy of the administration.

In July in the closing days of Congress, a Senate bill to increase the borrowing power of the Commodity Credit Corporation from $10 billion to $12 billion came up in the House and when Dr. Miller of Nebraska asked what happened to the money received from products the Commodity Credit Corporation sold, he did not receive an answer from the members present. Do the members of Congress keep informed on the agricultural situation?

They are still building bins in Iowa and are still receiving sealed corn, and it is reported the government has over 140 million bushels of sealed corn in Iowa. The congressional record shows that the average cost of storing grain in 1954 was 11 cents per bushel and for 1953, six cents per bushel. According to the record, the government owns 851 million bushels of wheat and 576 million bushels of corn.

Something is wrong in Washington, or is it the voters who are wrong in electing members to the House and Senate? Think it over.

LOGAN A. ROGERS

Up The Hill And Down

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Mother Goose tells us that the King of France marched up the hill with twice ten thousand men. Last week a small army of Lincolnites marched upon the City Hall with about that number of words—all directed against the proposed "dehousing" ordinance. We didn't get a chance to use our words; the planning commission saw us coming. Like the King of France, we marched down again.

Even so, things may not be so bad. We read that Planning Engineer Brogren thinks the ordinance might be relaxed on six of the points that irk us most. The Board of Realtors offered suggestions in writing, among which is the very same proposal that health and welfare minimum standards be specifically determined.

Pause a moment to consider that one. Has anyone proven that persons living more than two-thirds below ground level are universally unhealthy? Has any living demonstrated that persons living one-third above ground have universally good health? What support has anyone for those drastic requirements of bedroom floor space, window area, etc., etc.?

Mr. Faulkner offered the opinion that tenants are not getting what they are paying for. What are they getting? What are they paying for? Has any study been made to determine what a $30 apartment should offer? Or a $40 apartment? Or an apartment renting for any other price? Can anyone venture an opinion on the extent to which those undetermined standards are being met in Lincoln?

We all agree that some apartments are highly undesirable places to live in; we cannot agree that all basement apartments should be condemned without definitions, and without examination of individual cases. Even west of 27th Street and north of O, some good apartments and satisfied tenants may be found if search were made.

And that retroactive feature of the ordinance—we agree with the Board of Realtors: it is "highly inadvisable." We add our opinion that it is the most unfair, un-American, and objectionable proposition that good people in a democracy could dream up.

The "anti's" won the first battle without firing a shot. And aren't you glad you didn't have to sit and listen to me tell all I would like to say against the proposed ordinance? The speech would have been long—and dumb. But the war isn't won yet. Let us keep watch, keep thinking things through, and attend the next meeting whether we get a chance to speak or not.

13-State Demo Meet Opens With Prayer For Ike

DES MOINES (INS) — Democratic leaders, opening a 13-state Midwestern farm conference in Des Moines, Friday offered prayers for the complete recovery of President Eisenhower.

At the opening business session, preliminary to the public farm conference Saturday, James C. Quigley of Valentine, Neb., conference chairman, called for the prayer.

Jake More, Iowa Democratic chairman and secretary of the Midwest conference, said former President Harry S. Truman and 1952 Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson had been invited but were unable to attend because of previous commitments.

The principal address at a $25-a-plate fund-raising banquet Saturday night will be given by Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, a potential presidential candidate.

William Roberts of Washington, D. C., who has opened Kefauver presidential headquarters, also will attend the meeting.

Quigley emphasized that "we are not endorsing any candidate" at the Midwest meeting.

Resolutions which will be drafted Saturday are expected, however, to form the basis of the Democratic farm plank in the 1956 election platform.

Stevenson sent a message stating the Democratic objective for agriculture "is equality with the other parts of our economy" and asserting that 90 per cent parity for farm products "is certainly not unfair or too high."

Immediate Action
In a statement prepared for the conference, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota called for immediate government action to halt declining hog prices.

He warned, however, that any pork buying program must be for the purpose of "lifting prices to producers and not just a bonanza to processors."

Humphrey said the American farmer needs a more realistic hog program than the one Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson "so timidly used" for temporary purchases of beef recently.

Behind Scenes

DES MOINES (INS)—A battle for the national committeeman's post in Oklahoma raged between the scenes at the Midwest Democratic farm conference in Des Moines with W. C. Doenges of Bartlesville, Okla., apparently getting the upper hand.

Doenges received tacit support in his contest with Jim Arrington of Stillwater, Okla., when conference chairman James Quigley of Valentine, Neb., named the Bartlesville man as moderator of the farm panel.

The Democratic National Committee, at its meeting next month, is scheduled to vote on acceptance of Doenges or Arrington as the Oklahoma national committeeman.

Doenges reportedly agreed to resign at a specified time when he was elected national committeeman.

United Air Lines Strike Postponed

CHICAGO (AP) — Federal Mediator Leverett Edwards announced Friday night that a strike of AFL flight engineers against United Air Lines, scheduled for 12:01 a.m. Saturday, has been postponed indefinitely.

Following a conference with representatives of the company and the union, Edwards said negotiations in the dispute would be resumed Saturday afternoon.

United officials said all flight scheduled were being operated normally.

Earlier, UAL President William A. Patterson said a walkout by flight engineers would cause "only minor interference" in schedules.

The union had said UAL operations could continue only through use of strikebreakers.

Youth Group Elects Mrs. Abel Chairman

Former U. S. Senator Mrs. Hazel Abel of Lincoln has been elected chairman of the Nebraska Committee for Youth.

She succeeds Dr. Frank A. Court, also of Lincoln.

Other officers named at a meeting held at the state-house are State Sen. Dwight Burney of Hartington and Supt. Otto Ruff of Scottsbluff, vice presidents; and Mrs. Vincent Riley, Columbus, secretary.

Plans for the governor's annual conference on youth, to be held at Boys Town Nov. 8, were announced.

Speakers will include Judge Theodore B. Knudson of Minneapolis, Minn., and W. B. Tucker of the Kansas Council on Children and Youth.

Group discussion leaders will be Chief Justice Robert Simmons of the Nebraska Supreme Court; Ray A. McConnell Jr., Lincoln Journal editor; Mrs. Abel, and James Paxton, Omaha attorney.

The theme will be "using community resources at the local level."

The state committee, reporting four meetings held during the past year, said to double that number in the coming year.

Mrs. Jessica Epstone, executive secretary, said the aim is formation of a youth council in each community to meet youth needs at the local level.

Orchard Woman Seriously Injured In Road Accident

NORFOLK, Neb. (P)—Mrs. Alma Drayton, about 65, of Orchard, was seriously injured Friday morning in a one-car accident on a county road 5½ miles north of Royal, State Safety Patrolman Charles Harris of Albion.

Mrs. Drayton, hospitalized in Norfolk, suffered compound fractures of both legs and her jaw, head injuries and severe shock. She was given two blood transfusions shortly after reaching the hospital.

Mrs. Drayton apparently lost control of her car, which veered off a highway and struck a tree. She was alone in the car.

Donner Files For Unicom

John G. Donner of Elgin Friday completed filing for the nomination for state senator from the 27th legislative district.

Sen. Glenn Crawford of Albion is the incumbent.

Alvin Riches Of Auburn, Nebraska Poultry Improvement Assn. Head

Alvin Riches of Auburn is the new president of the Nebraska Poultry Improvement Association, succeeding Joe Baumert of Columbus.

Other officers elected Friday in the windup of the association's 21st annual convention held in Lincoln were Don Williams of Fremont, first vice president, and Ray Brown of Blair, second vice president and a director at large.

Re-elected were Doyle H. Free of Lincoln to a fifth term as executive secretary, Allen Hudson of York as treasurer, and Bob Larson of Newman Grove as state delegate to the American Poultry and Hatchery Federation for a third term.

Advisory Group
During its business session Friday, the association approved the creation of a committee representing the poultry industry to advise in the administration of the state egg improvement law.

Members of the committee, suggested by the state administrator, are to be named later.

Noting the production and

merchandising of eggs, broilers and turkeys is now keenly competitive, the poultrymen urged the expansion of research and education in poultry husbandry at the University of Nebraska and its experiment farm.

It asked research facilities at the University's East Farm be improved for study in poultry breeding, nutrition and management.

Fred L. Donsing of Rio Linda, Calif., a national vice president, told the association that the poultry industry will have to gear itself to the increasing U.S. population.

The future of the industry is very bright, Donsing said, but predicted the pattern of egg production, as has broiler and turkey production, will swing from the farm to more commercial enterprises in the future.

The demand for a better product at a fair price is pushing production to larger flocks, specialized equipment and methods, and to fewer, but larger producers, Donsing said.

The number of operating hatcheries has decreased from 10,000 to 6,000 in the past 12 years, he explained, although production has increased due to the fact chickens are better fed and cared for, and are producing more.

For greater economy and efficiency, hatcheries and commercial broilers are tending toward an adjusted year-round operation, he said, thus cutting overhead costs and leveling out seasonal highs and lows.

The association's annual banquet, with an all poultry menu, was held Friday evening.

Appeal Reinstated

The Supreme Court directed the Keith County District Court to reinstate the appeal of John McDonald from a $100 fine in County Court on a drunk driving charge. The county attorney contended one of the bondsmen did not sign the appeal bond in the presence of the County Court. But the Supreme Court said the record of a court in which a case originated cannot be impeached when the court is properly authenticated.

Keith's County Jail Capacity Increased

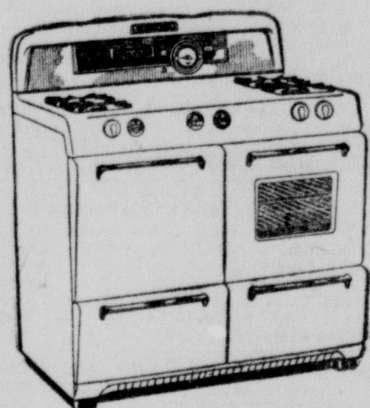

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP)—A growing number of prisoners has led to an increasing of the capacity of the Keith County Jail.

Sheriff Wayne Elliott said a room previously used for storage has been equipped with six bunks, a lavatory and toilet facilities to double the capacity of the jail.

City School Taxes Show 10.8% Hike

School taxes in 84 major Nebraska cities climbed 10.8 per cent over last year, a Nebraska Citizens Council survey shows.

The school tax total in the 84 cities is $29,600,000, compared with $26,700,000 last year.

Two of the 84 cities showed no change in school taxes, 65 had increases and 17 reported a decrease.

In Lincoln, where enrollment was up 7.6 per cent, school taxes climbed 12.1 per cent, from $4,700,000 to $5,280,000.

Omaha school taxes went up $1 million, or 11.5 per cent over last year, with a 4.8 per cent enrollment increase.

Cities showing larger tax increases include Ralston, 52.2 per cent; Bellevue, 44 per cent; Mullen, 38.9 per cent; Sidney, 35.5 per cent; Hastings, 29.3 per cent; South Sioux City, 27.3 per cent; Geneva, 26.4 per cent; Crete, 25.4 per cent; Lexington, 21.2 per cent, and Norfolk, 19.6 per cent.

School taxes went down in Crawford, 22.9 per cent; Bayard, 16.4 per cent; Culbertson, 16.2 per cent, and Falls City, 10.8 per cent.

Increases included Beatrice, 6.7 per cent; Broken Bow, 8.2 per cent; Cambridge, 11.5 per cent; Chadron, 6.5 per cent; Fairbury, 8.4 per cent; Fremont, 1.4 per cent; Grand Island, 9.5 per cent; Kearney, 7.8 per cent; North Platte, 2.9 per cent; Ogallala, 13.5 per cent; Scottsbluff, 9.4 per cent, and York, 10.5 per cent.

The Citizens Council said enrollment changes do not explain tax changes to a great extent.

Rising Costs Explanation
The explanation, it said, apparently lies in rising costs of building, materials, maintenance and teachers' salaries.

Costs per pupil are higher in smaller schools, the report showed.

Forty per cent of the high schools in the state had enrollments of 50 or fewer pupils last year, the Citizens Council said.

Per pupil costs averaged $488 in 62 high schools with enrollments of 50 or less, the survey showed, while schools with about 300 students had an average per pupil cost of $300.

Weaver Telegram:

Benson Urged To 'Get Rid Of Some Aides'

Rep. Phil Weaver told Secretary of Agriculture Benson in a telegram Friday he should consider getting rid of persons in his department "who are tired out and take a gloomy view of most suggestions offered" to solve farm problems.

Rep. Weaver three days ago offered a plan he said would help cut the "growing gap" between what the farmer receives for his products and what he has to pay for items used to produce crops.

He proposed such items be sold to farmers at a lowered cost, with the government reimbursing retailers for the difference.

Rep. Weaver Friday said unnamed officials in Washington had been quoted as saying such a program "would be practically impossible to administer, and very costly."

He told Benson in the telegram, copies of which were released in Lincoln:

"It surprises me that a responsible unnamed official of your department who criticized my proposed plan would express opposition without giving the subject sufficient study.

"What we need is a positive attitude together with a willingness and a desire on the part of those in your department to help the farmer, not to criticize a plan such as mine just because it is a direct approach to solve some of the problems.

"My plan calls for less bureaucracy than most bureaucrats usually demand because it would be comparatively easy to understand and administer.

"A legislative program is needed to give some of the financial help to farmers that we have for so many years given to other segments of our society through subsidies, tariffs and favorable transportation and mail rates."

GOOD READING FOR A DELIGHTFUL MORNING

OUR LITTLE red book had numerous notations that involved a variety of events—and people this morning—in fact the lrb was about at the overflow stage—but we drained it dry—almost.

We have news of guests—There are people leaving for a period of years—others just for the week-end—We have homecomers—and courtesies for brides-elect—We're well stocked with what it takes to make interesting reading on a delightful October morning.

THINK we'll begin the morning saga of the social world with

Morning Wedding

The marriage of Mrs. L. L. Smith of Lincoln to Ernest Kelly of Rock Falls, Ill., will be solemnized at a 10:30 o'clock service this morning at St. Matthews Church, Episcopal.

The Rev. James Stillwell, rector of St. Matthews, will solemnize the service.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast will be served at the University Club.

Madam Chairman

AFTERNOON

Chapter K, PEO, 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Carl J. Olson, 3750 Randolph.

Altrusa Club, 1 o'clock luncheon at the Hotel Capital.

Daughters of Founders and Patriots, luncheon at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Camp Fire Conference

The national triennial conference of Camp Fire Girls will be held Nov. 5 to 9, at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, with more than 1500 men and women representing national, regional and local Camp Fire workers attending.

Welcoming the delegates will be William D. Stratton, governor of Illinois, and included among the conference speakers will be Edward C. Logelin, vice president of the U.S. Steel Company, and Miss Jacqueline Cochran, aviatrix, author, business woman and member of the national board of directors of Camp Fire Girls.

Mrs. Harold H. Hartman, national Camp Fire president, will preside at the conference and will lead a discussion on, "Do You Know as Much as Your Daughter?" Mrs. Hartman's address, "Freedom Brings Changes," will keynote the conference theme, "Let Freedom Ring."

The conference will include a series of workshops for both professional and volunteer workers, and a pageant will be presented by Chicago area Camp Fire Girls. Reports will be given by Miss Martha F. Allen, national Camp Fire director, and by John J. Wolkester of St. Paul, Minn., chairman of the board of directors, and the Rev. Archibald M. Carey, pastor of Quinn Chapel, A.M.E. Church, will speak to the delegates on, "Freedom Under God."

Election of national council officers and a banquet will conclude the conference, which will

Altrusa Program

The Lincoln Altrusa Club has planned a special meeting for Saturday afternoon to be held at the Capital Hotel following a 1 o'clock luncheon.

An orientation program will be held for new members, including those who have joined the group within the last year, and will feature discussions of the projects, organization and history of the club.

In charge of arrangements will be the membership committee and leading the discussions will be club officers. Program chairman will be Mrs. Ethel Long.

Red Cross Appointments

Mrs. John Scofield, chairman of the Lancaster County Red Cross service groups, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Harold Mattoon as new chairman of the Red Cross canteen service.

Named vice chairman was Mrs. Roscoe C. Abbott, and Mrs. E. H. Doll has been appointed leader of the canteen service unit 1.

The canteen service workers serve and prepare food under the Red Cross preparedness program, and conduct a class in cooking for patients at the State Hospital.

To Entertain

The members of the Century Club will meet for a 1 o'clock luncheon, Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. Walker Battey, 1040 Piedmont. The program will be presented by Mrs. Roy Bickford.

Do FALSE TEETH Rock, Slide or Slip?

a party. It's the Costume Ball on Oct. 28 for which Mr. and Mrs. Milton F. Petersen, Jr. (Shirley Woods), and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Petersen, II, of Omaha are to be hosts and hostesses at the Omaha Country Club.

While the guest list will be predominantly Omaha, invitations have found their way into numerous Lincoln mailboxes, and planning to attend the party are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Agee, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Faulkner, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Osborn, Mr. and Mrs. Carl (Ky) Rohman, Mrs. Milton Petersen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Woods, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rogers.

PLANS are in the making for numerous courtesies in honor of Rep. and Mrs. John J. Rhodes of Mesa, Ariz., and Washington D.C., who are arriving on Sunday — but final details must await Congressman Rhodes' schedule during his stay in Lincoln. Rep. Rhodes will be coming north from Mesa and will be joined here by Mrs. Rhodes, who comes from Washington D.C., for a few days stay as the houseguests of World War II friends, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hinds.

But we know for sure that Mrs. Rhodes is to be complimented on Monday when Mrs. Jack Stone is a luncheon hostess at Hotel Cornhusker.

LEARNED that the members of a once-a-month dinner club will be dining at the University Club this evening — Arrangements for the dinner, and the evening of bridge to follow, are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hadley.

APROPOS of the University Club —there's to be another luncheon and fashion show there on Monday, and we hear that nearly 200 reservations already have been made.

THE Saturday dawn found Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hyland and their three children, Patty Sue, Johnny and Danny, on their way to Burwell—or perhaps we should say—to the vicinity of Burwell—Mr. and Mrs. Hyland and their family are to spend the week-end as the guests of Mrs. Hyland's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Buell, on the Buell ranch. We hear that Mr. Hyland will be found down by the duck pond—but Mrs. Hyland and the children will stay at the ranch home.

HEARD some interesting news

this morning that specifically concerns Mrs. Robert Sherwood (Martha Lee Miller). On Oct. 30, Mrs. Sherwood, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Sterling F. Mutz, will be leaving for San Francisco where they will await the arrival of Lt. Sherwood who will be homeward bound from Korea on Nov. 6.

The travelers are driving to the coast, but Mrs. Mutz will return to Lincoln by plane.

THEN we heard that Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lemmon (Patrice Hammond) will be leaving on Nov. 2, to begin a two-year tour of army duty. It will be Lt. Lemmon reporting in at Ft. Bliss, El Paso, Tex., where he and Mrs. Lemmon will reside—at least temporarily.

TOOK a look at next week-end's activities, and while the festivities involving the game aren't too hectic, we did manage to collect a few guests who will be in town for the week-end—

Coming from Kansas City to be the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin DuTeau will be their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald DuTeau, and guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth DuTeau will be their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Andrew Buntin, Jr., of Cheyenne, Wyo., and their daughter, Miss Margot DuTeau, who comes from St. Joseph, Mo.

AND next Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Finigan will entertain at a buffet supper at their home complimenting Miss Daisy DuTeau and her fiancé, Gates Minnick, whose marriage will be solemnized on Dec. 19. The out of town guests will include the visitors from Kansas City, Cheyenne, and St. Joseph.

ON the calendar for next Saturday morning is the brunch for which Miss Bernie Rosenquist and Miss Ruth Rosenquist will be hostesses at their home when they honor a December bride-elect, Miss Sue Ramey, whose marriage to Allan Holbert takes place on Dec. 17.

ALSO on the courtesy list for Saturday, Oct. 29, is the morning coffee honoring Miss Judy Wiebe, who has named Dec. 20, as the date for her marriage to William Schainholtz. The hostesses will be Miss Jean Thomas, Mrs. Robert Sherwood and Mrs. Jack Scofield of Grand Island—and the party will be at the home of Miss Thomas.

Wednesday Club Is Entertained

The members of the Lincoln Heights Wednesday Club were the guests of Mrs. Jack Etherton at her home on Wednesday afternoon. The lesson on Swedish painting was presented by Mrs. Robert Chase.

We Hear That

Lt. and Mrs. Ralph L. Conner, 5534 Hartley, are the parents of a son, Steven Scott, who was born on Friday, Oct. 14, at the Offutt Air Base hospital in Omaha. Lt. Conner, who is stationed at the Lincoln Air Force Base, is the son of Mrs. Eva Conner of Wakefield. The baby's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Mostoller of Kennewick, Wash.

PEO Chapter Programs

Mrs. J. B. Kniffen will be hostess on Saturday to the members of Chapter BY, PEO. Following a one o'clock luncheon at Mrs. Kniffen's home, a program will be presented by Mrs. G. W. Frampton, a member of Chapter AI, who will report on the recent convention of the Supreme Chapter held earlier this month at Indianapolis, Ind.

Assisting hostesses for the luncheon will be Mrs. Curry Watson, Mrs. Mary Louise Whiting and Mrs. L. W. Chase.

The regular meeting of Chapter EE, PEO, will be held at 8 o'clock, Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Harold E. Janke, 4517 Adams.

Mrs. Emil Koenig will assist Mrs. Janke as hostess, and the program will be presented by Mrs. L. H. Alberty and Mrs. Vern C. Nelson.

Miss Mabel Rice and Miss Elsie Rice will be co-hostesses at their home, 3125 Cedar, on Tuesday evening, to the members of Chapter ES, PEO.

Following the 7:30 o'clock dessert supper, a report on the Supreme Chapter convention in Indiana will be given by Edna Olson.

To Hold Fall Luncheon

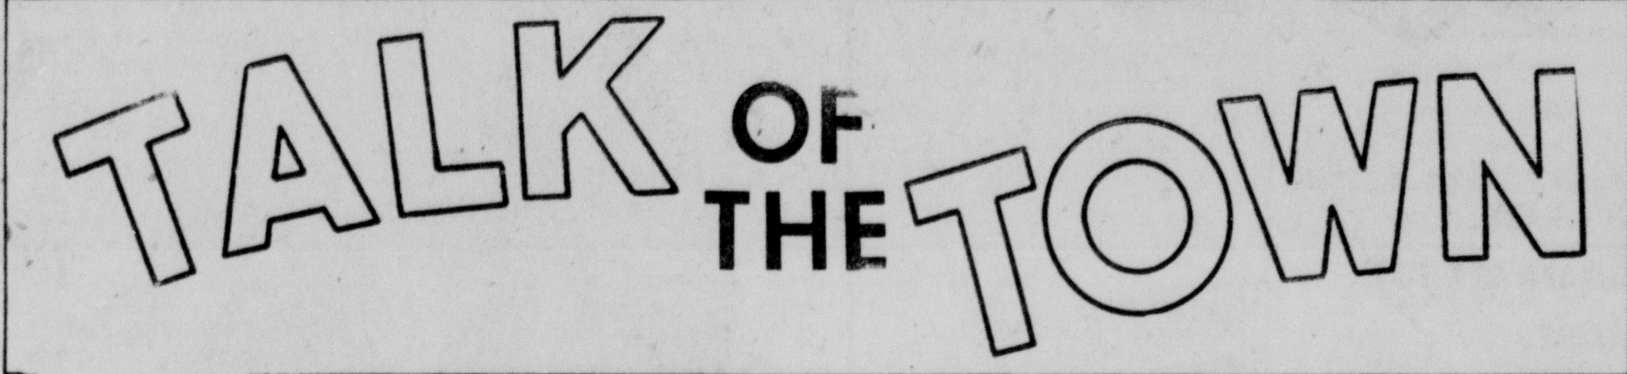

The regular fall meeting of the Nebraska Chapter, Daughters of Founders and Patriots, will be held in Lincoln Saturday afternoon following luncheon at the Hotel Cornhusker.

New officers of the chapter, elected last spring, will open their three-year term of office with a discussion of chapter projects, which will include placing historical markers in the state.

A budget will be adopted, and Mrs. G. A. Ackerman of Lincoln, chapter president, will announce committee appointments for the year.

Chapter officers are Mrs. Ackerman, president; Mrs. James C. Suttie, Omaha, vice president; Miss Jennie Down, Omaha, chaplain; Mrs. Charles C. Lang, Omaha, recording secretary; Mrs. Glen T. Gibson, Gibbon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. M. Sprague, Grand Island, registrar; and Miss Pearl Freeman, Columbus, treasurer.

Other board members are Mrs. Fred Greene, Lincoln, historian; Mrs. J. C. Evans, Omaha, color-bearer; and councillors, Mrs. J. A. Borghoff, Mrs. R. M. Jones, Omaha, Mrs. A. O. Ledford, Lincoln, and Miss Ruby Freeman, Columbus.

AUTUMN BRIDES-ELECT ARE HONORED

The closing days of October will be busy ones for the many Lincoln brides-elect who have chosen the ever-increasingly popular autumn months for their weddings. The social calendar is filled with bridal courtesies, pre-nuptial dinners and wedding plans, and the list of December brides is growing longer every day.

A busy October bride-to-be is Miss Janice Rae Street, whose marriage to John S. Holmes will be an event of Sunday evening, Oct. 30. Honoring Miss Street on Sunday afternoon will be Miss Katherine Read and Miss Janice Rolofson who will entertain a group of guests at a dessert luncheon at the home of Miss Read. The afternoon hours will be spent informally and a linen shower will be presented to the honoree.

On Tuesday evening, Miss Street will be presented a miscellaneous shower when Miss Dixie Ivey and Miss Sharon Albury will be co-hostesses at the home of Miss Ivey at a dessert supper.

Completing the list of courtesies for the bride-elect will be the dinner Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Street will entertain at their home honoring their daughter and her fiancé. Following dinner, a wedding rehearsal will be held at the First Methodist Church.

The next few weeks will be filled with courtesies honoring Miss Dee Finigan, who will become the bride of Charles H. Krull on Saturday, Nov. 19.

Miss Finigan will be the guest of honor on Friday evening, Oct. 28, at a miscellaneous shower when Miss JoIne Beck, Mrs. Jack Pesek and Miss Barbara Pokorny will entertain at the home of Miss Beck. The informal evening will include a dessert supper.

A "something for the table" shower will be presented to Miss Finigan on Saturday, Nov. 5, when Mrs. Darrell Evans of Holland will be hostess.

Miss LaVonne Peterson, who has chosen Sunday, Nov. 27, as the date for her wedding to Dale Reichert, has announced the members of her bridal party.

For her matron of honor, the bride-to-be has chosen her sister-in-law, Mrs. Kent Peterson of Brady, and her bridesmaid will be Miss Betty Nelson of Brady.

Mrs. Jack Kelly Jr., of Grand Island, and Mrs. Gene Aksamit will be bridesmaids, and Miss Bethene Bee Peterson of Brady will be her sister's junior bridesmaid. The flower girl will be Miss Michelle Mahane of Brady.

Preceding the afternoon service, the candles will be lighted by Miss Janice Welker and Miss JoAnn Luebke.

Mervin Reichert will serve his brother as best man, and seating the guests will be Norris Kempton, Philip Ewen and Kent Peterson, brother of the bride-elect.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to his daughter, Miss Rhoda Rae Helvey, and her fiancé, James L. Hruza, whose marriage will be an event of Friday, Nov. 4, Sterling H. Helvey will be host at dinner at his home on Thursday evening, Nov. 3. The dinner will precede the wedding rehearsal, and the guest list will include members of the families and the bridal party.

Miss Helvey was honored last week at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss JoAnn God-fry. The dessert supper was held Thursday evening, Oct. 13, and co-hostess with Miss Godfrey was Miss Carol Oehring.

And last Monday evening, a group of friends entertained at a no-hostess dinner at Tony and Luigi's in pre-nuptial courtesy to the bride-to-be.

Announcing plans for a double wedding are Miss Elda Stutzman and her twin sister, Miss Nelda Stutzman, who have chosen Friday, Nov. 4, as the date for their marriages.

Miss Elda Stutzman will become the bride of Elwood Yoder of Friend, and her sister will

Evening Ceremony

Lighted candles and arrangements of autumn flowers appointed the chancel of St. Paul's Methodist Chapel for the wedding of Miss Claudine Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence T. McFarland, and A.2C Henry E. Gentry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gentry of National City, Calif., which took place on Friday evening, Oct. 21. Dr. Frank Court solemnized the 7:30 o'clock ceremony and Mrs. Lela Pierce, who played the wedding music, also accompanied Norman Francis, the vocal soloist.

The maid of honor, Miss Donas Starr, wore a waltz-length frock of pale pink tulle over satin, and the bridesmaids, Miss Gloria Huddleston of Marysville, Kan., and Miss Joyce Halte of Grand Island, wore frocks styled identically to that of the maid of honor but in the ice blue tone. Each carried a colonial bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

A.2C John Handloser served marry Mr. Yoder's brother, Wallace Yoder of Friend.

The ceremony will be solemnized at 8 o'clock in the evening at Trinity Methodist Church.

Miss Vivian Seibel also is announcing plans for a November wedding this morning. Miss Seibel will become the bride of A.2C James Lehr of Cadillac, Mich., on Sunday, Nov. 20.

The wedding will take place at the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Honoring Miss Marilyn Heiser next Tuesday evening will be a group of her office co-workers who will present a miscellaneous Airman Gentry as best man and the ushers were Donald Daily of Grand Island, and A.2C Thomas Ritter.

The bride appeared in a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. A snugly fitted long-sleeved jacket of lace, fashioned with a small throat collar, covered the bare-shouldered bodice, and the bouffancy of the waltz-length skirt was accentuated with tiers of lace and tulle. A small crown held her waist-length veil of illusion to her head and she carried a colonial bouquet of roses.

Following a wedding reception held at Ideal Hall, the couple left for a short wedding trip to Omaha.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

So far no fellow travelers have invoked the amendment that guarantees 'em a speedy trial.

It's the sixth that reads thataway and goes thisaway: "The accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury."

Well, they don't pay any more attention to that inalienable prerogative than a hog does to a mud fence. They go through it, over it or around it.

The amendments don't say anything about twisting bicycle seats or saving a piece of smoked glass for the next eclipse. But they do tip you off on your rights in respect of room temperature or previous condition of aberration.

Nevertheless, the sixth is as neglected as a bigamist's wives at a railroad station.

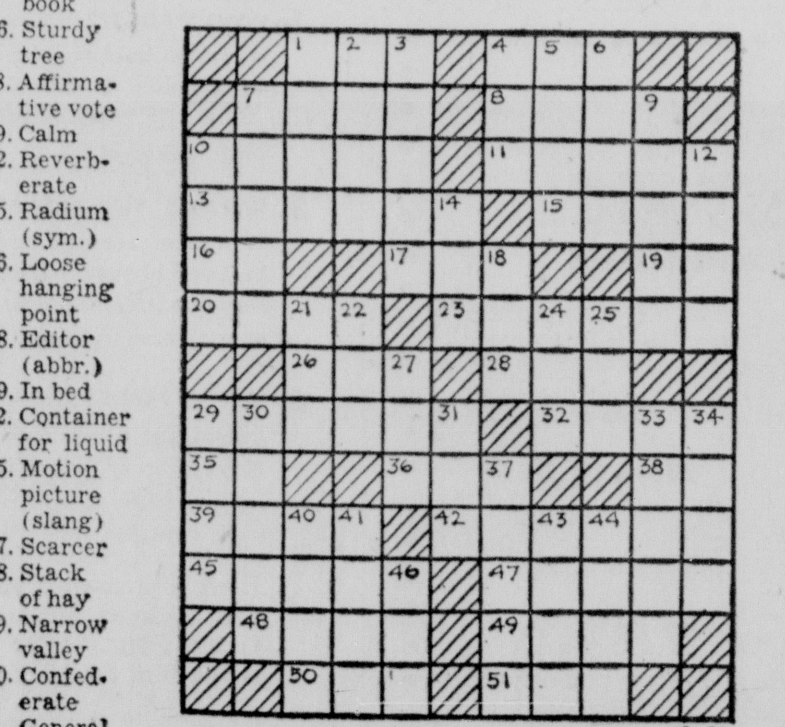

I've attended some of those trials in my capacity as kibitzer, emeritus. If you hear a horse whistle this winter you'll know a Commie has asked for a quick decision or there's ice skating on the park lake.

'Return To Normalcy' Expected After Upsets

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

A week ago a sudden Saturday produced the biggest wave of upsets the college football season has seen. Four teams were knocked out of top-10 rankings and favorites toppled on all sides.

A half-dozen or so prominent winners of these games today joined a dwindling group of teams with still unsmirched records in an effort to restore some sort of order to the 1955 season while the losers sought to get back on the right side.

Football Quiz

The losers posed some of the biggest questions in the national football guessing game. They included Notre Dame, a team that has finished in the first 10 of the 20-year history of The Associated Press ranking poll; Wisconsin and Washington, still top contenders for their conference titles and for the Rose Bowl; and Georgia Tech, the early favorite in the Southeastern Conference.

It's a matter of record that when a high-flying team is beaten once, it's likely to tumble again next week. And today Notre Dame, whipped by Michigan State, encountered Purdue, which got a great lift last week by tying Iowa on Len Dawson's last-play pass.

Wisconsin Vs. OSU

Wisconsin, sharing the Big 10 lead with Michigan but trounced by Southern California, ran into Ohio State, upset victim of Duke last week. Washington, beaten by Baylor, met a Stanford team whose only major victory was over Ohio State. Georgia Tech, tumbled by still-unbeaten Auburn, faced a comparatively soft one against Florida State.

Two of the surprise winners, Baylor and Texas A&M, collided with the Southwest Conference lead at stake. Michigan State met fast-moving Illinois in what figured to be the top game on the Big 10 slate. Duke, which vaulted into fifth place in The Associated Press rankings after last week's victory, encountered a potentially troublesome Pittsburgh team.

Auburn To Breeze

Southern California, back in the first 10 rankings, didn't look for serious difficulties with California and Auburn, now the Southeastern leader, expected a breeze against little Furman.

Among the ranking powers there was only one game bringing together two undefeated and untied teams. They were third-ranked Oklahoma and 14th-ranked Colorado, rivals for the Big 7 championship which Oklahoma always has won during Bud Wilkinson's tenure as coach.

Michigan, the No. 1 team, encountered an old rival, Minnesota, which didn't appear to have the manpower to carry out its designs for revenge for last year's beating. Maryland, No. 2, faced another of last week's upset winners, Syracuse in the East's best game. Navy, No. 4 behind Oklahoma, met Pennsylvania, loser of 13 straight, while West Virginia, No. 8, faced Penn State. UCLA met Iowa last night.

Saturday Fare

Other major games today included:

EAST—Army-Columbia, Brown-Rhode Island, Cornell-Princeton, Dartmouth-Harvard, Holy Cross-Boston University, Rutgers-Lehigh, Villanova-North Carolina State and Yale-Colgate.

SOUTH—Georgia-Tulane, Kentucky-Florida, Mississippi-Arkansas, Mississippi State-Alabama, Tennessee-Dayton, Virginia-Virginia Tech, Wake Forest-North Carolina and William and Mary-George Washington.

MIDWEST—Iowa State-Kansas State, Kansas-Southern Methodist, Missouri-Nebraska, Northwestern-Indiana.

SOUTHWEST AND FAR WEST—Rice-Texas, Texas Tech-Houston, Tulsa-Cincinnati, Arizona-Oregon, Colorado A&M-Utah State, Oregon State-Washington State and Utah-Wyoming.

Abilene Edged 7-6 By Chattanooga

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A conversion by center Ed Jarmakowicz Friday night gave the University of Chattanooga a 7-6 football decision over the Abilene Christian Wildcats before an estimated 6,300 Homecoming fans.

The Wildcats pushed over their touchdown late in the first quarter, with quarterback Don Harber sneaking over from the 1-yard line to climax a 40-yard drive. The all-important conversion was missed by quarterback Leonard Fry, who otherwise played a stellar game for the visitors.

After falling short on several threats, the Moccasins scored on a beautiful 29-yard pass from quarterback Bobby Case to end Bob Webb in the third quarter. Then came Jarmakowicz's point after that spelled the difference.

Abilene 6 0 0 0-6
Chattanooga 0 0 7 0-7
Chattanooga scoring—Touchdown: Webb (29, pass from Case), Conversion: Jarmakowicz.

Olson Sparkles In 32-7 Fairmont Win

FAIRMONT—Verlin Olson scored four touchdowns, one on a 65-yard punt return, to lead Fairmont past Milford 32-7 Friday night.

Milford 0 7 0 0-7
Fairmont 12 13 6 0-32
Fairmont scoring—Touchdown: Dean Fickman, Conversion: Ron Barker.
Fairmont scoring—Touchdown: Olson 4, Jim Pease, Conversions: Olson, Dale Fry.

Islanders Tip Hastings 19-6

HASTINGS—The Grand Islanders romped to a 19-6 victory over Hastings, as the Islanders remained undefeated in the Eastern division of the Big Ten Conference.

In the first quarter Jerry Lee's Islander team took advantage of a fumble on the Hastings four and scored the first touchdown of the evening as Gene Suponchick rambled over for the tally.

In the second quarter Grand Island climaxed a 55-yard drive as Suponchick again scored.

Hastings came through when their only score of the evening was set up by a fumble on the Hastings three and a Tiger line-man fell on the ball. Seconds later Don Perdue plunged for the six-point.

The Islanders marched back in the fourth to add up some more score as Jerry Schroeder ended a 65-yard campaign, plunging at the seven. Larry Feaster placekicked for the only Islander conversion.

Grand Island 6 7 0 0-19
Hastings 0 0 0 0-6

Doane Loses To Kearney

CRETE—Bill Bowers scored from five yards out in the final period Friday night to give Kearney State College a slim 12-9 win over the Doane Tigers.

Doane went ahead in the second quarter on a 9-yard pass play from Mike Lehl to Gale Mathiasen, with Duane Ourada adding the extra point.

Kearney scored in the same period on a 7-yard pass from Dick Baker to Merlin Bachman, but missed the point try.

Doane added a safety in the final period but could not close the gap.

Kearney 0 6 0 0-12
Doane 0 7 0 0-9

Weeping Water Raps Waverly

WEeping WATER—Chuck Stacey and Phil Rhodes ran and passed Weeping Water to a 26-7 Homecoming victory over Waverly here Friday night.

Marilyn Rhodes was crowned Homecoming queen. Her attendants were Dorothy Colbert, Linda Norris, Henrietta Wade and Jean Curnes.

Waverly 0 0 0 0-7
Weeping Water 6 14 6 0-26
Weeping Water scoring—Touchdown: Jack Trax (6, run), Conversion: Roster Ruff.

Last-Quarter TDs Boost Bellevue

WAHOO—Bellevue pushed over two touchdowns in the last quarter to clinch a 19-6 Ak-Sar-Ben Conference victory over Wahoo Friday night.

The running of Roger Mikles and the defensive play of guard Gail Beckstead sparked Bellevue, Bill Lindgren and Gerald Palick were tops defensively for Wahoo.

Bellevue 7 0 0 0-12-19
Wahoo 0 0 0 0-6

Bellevue scoring—Touchdowns: LeMayne Dressen (18, laterally), Roger Mikles (12, run); Gail Beckstead (6, recovered fumble). Conversion: Dick Neale (plunge).
Wahoo scoring—Touchdown: Ralph Lanik (3, laterally).

Auburn Smothered By Falls City 34-0

FALLS CITY—Falls City smothered Auburn 34-0 at Falls City Friday night. The game was featured by the running of Jerry Collier and the passing of Mickey Cochran.

Collier ran for touchdowns of 61, 8, and 10 yards, with Cochran throwing a 22-yard pass to Poage. Auburn's attack functioned well at times, but they just couldn't make it across the goal line. This was due to the brilliant defensive play of the complete forward wall of Falls City.

Falls City 0 21 7 0-34

Norfolk Rambles Past Discoverers

COLUMBUS—After a scoreless first quarter, Norfolk put on the steam and rolled over the Columbus Discoverers, 26-6 as George Blakeman set the pace for the team by scoring two six-pointers.

Norfolk's Paulson and Kuester each added a touchdown each to help boost the score.

The only touchdown for the Columbus team was made by Tom Ernst. The two extra points for Norfolk were placekicked by Louis Paulson.

Columbus 0 0 0 0-6
Norfolk 0 7 6 13-26

Concordia scoring—Touchdown: Suhr (4, run), Conversion: Fritz Pauling (plunge).
Safely—Harrison, Exeter, recovered fumble in end zone.

Exeter Rallies To Trounce Concordia 41-9

By RON GIBSON

Star Sports Staff Member
SEWARD—Exeter blew a one-touchdown lead and then stormed back to whip Concordia of Seward, 41-9, in an eight-man game here Friday afternoon.

An outstanding Exeter line paved the way for the comeback after Concordia had turned two Exeter misuses into a 9-7 lead.

Coach Ken Kasper's Exeter team took a 7-0 lead at the outset following Concordia's fumble of the kickoff. On the first play from scrimmage, Tom Dumpert shot through the middle for 27 yards and an apparent touchdown, but a penalty set Exeter back to the 32.

Warren Thomsen then swept left end for the first of his three touchdowns and Exeter took a lead which was to be overcome shortly.

A bad pass from center on an attempted punt gave Concordia possession on the Exeter four, and quarterback John Suhr smashed over from there.

Another bad pass on an attempted punt early in the second quarter cost Exeter the lead. Quarterback Dick Harrison fell on the ball in the end zone for a safety and Concordia went ahead, 9-7.

The fine Exeter line, which features three tackles in the middle on defense—Garv Chapman, Bill Hiser and Tom Harre—kept Concordia from making a sustained drive after that and opened big holes for backs Thomsen, Tom Dumpert and Jerry Bristol.

Bristol, a top-notch two-way player, got Exeter back in the lead on a 47-yard scoring dash with 5:20 left in the half. Long runs by Bristol and Dumpert set up another touchdown minutes later. Thomsen skirted left end to score from 11 yards out.

Exeter built its 21-9 halftime lead to 28-9 at the end of the third quarter on a 51-yard sprint by Warren Thomsen.

A jump pass from Harrison to Vern Thomsen clicked for 59 yards and another touchdown as the Exeter first team ran up a 34-9 lead before leaving the game. Bristol got the last touchdown on a sweep of less than one yard, making the final Exeter total six touchdowns, five conversions and two tallies nullified by penalties.

It was the last regularly-scheduled game for Exeter. The Star's second-ranked eight-man team. Exeter has arranged a tentative date with Brady, ranked third, at Arapahoe Nov. 2.

Exeter 7 14 7 13-41
Concordia 7 2 0 0-9

Exeter scoring—Touchdowns: Warren Thomsen 3 (62, run); Vern Thomsen (59, run-pass from Harrison); Bristol 2 (47, run; 1 foot, run). Conversions: Dumpert 2 (run), Melvin Motz (plunge), Thomsen (plunge).
Safely—Harrison, Exeter, recovered fumble in end zone.

Detroit Winner 7-0 Over Oklags

DETROIT (AP)—Little Billy Russell ended a three-hour scoring famine for the University of Detroit Friday, going for a third-quarter touchdown which produced a 7-0 victory over winless Oklahoma A&M in a Missouri Valley Conference football game.

Russell broke up a tight punting duel with a 4-yard sweep around left end, climaxing a 69-yard drive in 11 plays.

It was the Titans' first touchdown since the third quarter of their 41-0 romp over Wichita Sept. 30—a scoreless stretch of exactly 184 minutes.

The victory before a crowd of 16,280 fans gave Detroit a 2-3 record, while the loss was the fifth straight for the Aggies.

Detroit 0 0 7 0-7
Oklahoma A&M 0 0 0 0-0
Detroit scoring—Touchdown: Russell (4, run), Conversion: Lovch.

Logart Gains Win In Upset

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Isaac (Kid) Logart, 22-year-old Cuban flash hoping to follow in countryman Kid Gavilan's footsteps, took a giant stride in that direction Friday night by upsetting Gil Turner of Philadelphia in a thrilling 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. Turner weighed 152½, Logart 147.

Making his Garden debut, the fast-punching invader won the votes of the three officials and the cheers of the fans on hand and television viewers with his impressive showing against a more experienced rival.

It was close and exciting all the way and the youngster proved he was big time material by copying the last round which was the decider. All three officials awarded the tenth to Logart.

Referee Al Berl and Judge Jack Gordon each had it 5-4 while Judge Joe Agnello made it 6-4. The Associated Press scorecard had Logart in front, 5-4-1.

Young Ike, one of 17 children of a Cuban soldier, has a style similar to Gavilan's, wears white shoes like the ex-welterweight king and comes from Camaguey, the same hometown as Gavilan. He proved he could fight a lot like the Old Keed with his plucky stands against the 25-year-old Turner, 10th-ranked in the middleweight contender, Logart is the No. 9 welterweight contender.

It was a blistering, fast-paced punching bee from the opening bell until the final gong. Everyone of the some 2,500 fans in the Garden sensed that the last round would be the decider and they cheered the battling gladiators all the way. Logart won out when he earned an edge over Turner in one terrific exchange and then followed by clipping the heavier Turner with a sizzling left hook to the jaw.

DeWitt Wins, 37-20

DEWITT—Werner Janssen, scoring five touchdowns, posted his DeWitt team to a 37-20 triumph over Reynolds here Friday night. Janssen's touchdowns varied from thirty six yard-sprints to five yard plunges. Scoring the only other tally was Roger Ebberts on a 45-yard punt return.

The Reynolds tallies came when Halfback Goodson ran sixty yards and the other two were scored by pass plays with the center, Craig on the receiving end.

George Munger, slated to return to the major leagues with the Pittsburgh Pirates next season, pitched his first victory in the majors in 1943 with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Nothing does it like 7-Up! This sparkling thirst-quencher gives the youngsters needed energy, but doesn't take the edge off dinner appetites.

TCU Raps Hurricanes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Chuck Curtis, Texas Christian's big, rangy quarterback, hurled two touchdown passes and plunged for a third score but Harold Pollard's extra-point kicking made the difference Friday night as the Horned Frogs whipped the Miami Hurricanes 21-19.

Curtis nailed Jim Swink, his fast-traveling halfback, with a 24-yard strike into the Miami end zone in the first period and hit O'Day Williams with a 16-yard drive in the second.

In the third, after Don Cooper had pounced on a fumble at the Miami 21 to put the Frogs in range of the winning touchdown, Curtis got it on a dive into the Miami line from one yard out.

Pollard drove the ball squarely through the goal posts for all three extra points and the margin of victory against a hard-pressing Miami team that scored twice in the first quarter and again in the final period.

A gallant defense by the big TCU line was another important factor in a game that kept 44,045 fans in a constant uproar. Miami was stopped once just a foot short of a touchdown and on two other occasions drove to the TCU 20.

Sam Scarnecchia, moving up from the third string to take command of the Miami offense, guided the Hurricanes to their two first-quarter touchdowns, using a clever mixture of ground and aerial plays.

TCU 7 7 0 0-21
Miami 13 0 7 0-19
Texas Christian scoring—Touchdowns: Swink 24—pass from Curtis; Williams 16—pass from Curtis; Curtis 1—plunge. Conversions: Pollard 3.
Miami scoring—Touchdowns: Scarnecchia 1—sneak; Hefli 2—plunge; Loeck 63, pass—run from Scarnecchia, Conversion: Bonafiglio.

Bearcats Block NB Bid For West Title

NORTH PLATTE—The Scotts-bluff Bearcats won a hard-fought football game over the North Platte Bulldogs Friday night, 6-0, to temporarily block North Platte's bid for the Big Ten west division title.

Halstead recovered a fumble on the Platte's 13 yard line in the third quarter and Bill Lane crashed over from one-half yard out to score the only touchdown of the game.

North Platte's most consistent performers were Bill Naviaux and Vern Swanson. Swanson's kick of 62 yards in the third quarter for the Bulldogs was one of the highlights of the contest.

Fourteen fumbles, nine by North Platte and five by Scottsbluff, attest to the hard tackling in the battle between the two Big Ten powers. Either team can win the division title depending on next week's games.

Scottsbluff 6 0 0 0-6

Sooners In Biggest Loop Test Against Colorado

NORMAN, Okla.—Colorado, a fast-forming football cool front from the Rockies, pushes across Oklahoma's weather map here Saturday in a mid-season showdown battle that has annually become a Big Seven conference classic.

It's college football's fastest-budding donnybrook. Coach Dal Ward's Golden Buffaloes, a big, deep, rugged single wingback outfit, have played Coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners 13-6, 27-20 and 21-21 the last three seasons and after a whole year of concentration for the Sooner game, will try to freeze and burst Oklahoma's long pipe of 48 league games without defeat.

Kickoff is at 2 p.m. at Owen Field here. The crowd has been sold out for a week at approximately 59,000.

Both clubs are all-victorious. Colorado's Warner offense, featuring reverses, aerials and traps with the fullback hitting off tackle or back across the weakside guard, has vanquished Arizona, Kansas, Oregon and Kansas State, eating the latter club alive 34-13 last week at Manhattan after Kansas State

Whites Trip Reds, 17-14

Both teams took to the air to mark up big gains Friday as the Whites defeated the Reds 17-14 in the final frosh intra-squad game at Nebraska U.

The Whites got off in front in the first quarter on the recovery of a Red fumble on the Red 2-yard line. Eddie Corazzi carried it over on a wedge and Rich King booted the point.

The Reds tied it up in the second quarter when Quarterback Roy Stinnett passed 15 yards to Jim Holman in the end zone. Ernest English kicked the point. The Red scoring drive was highlighted by a 44-yard Stinnett to Mike Lee pass.

The Whites went ahead again in the same period when a 27-yard pass play, Corazzi to Guy Sapp, was good for the TD and King again added the point.

With 1:30 left in the half the Whites' Claire Boroff intercepted a Red pass on the White 48. After a drive featured by a 33-yard Corazzi to Melvin Burt pass, Rich King kicked a field goal with 5 seconds left to give the Whites a 17-7 halftime lead.

In the third period the Reds added their final seven points when End Mike Lee made a spectacular catch of a 14-yard Stinnett pass in the end zone and English added the point.

had belted Marquette 42-0 the week before.

Wilkinson's Sooners, attacking with speed, guile and fiery enthusiasm from their split-T formation, have by-passed North Carolina, Pittsburgh, Texas and Kansas. Breaking in a new backfield and new ends and developing an alternate eleven that looks much farther along than any they have produced the last six years, the Oklahoma staff has done a fine coaching job despite the loss of six starters and 16 lettermen from last season.

Oklahoma records on target are (1) 23 victories in a row, (2) 99 consecutive games in which Oklahoma has scored, and (3) no defeats to a Big Seven foe during Wilkinson's eight-year period at Norman. Bud's Crimson and Cream creations have won 46 and tied 2 conference titles.

Each school will be striving to protect a long scoring string. Oklahoma will try to score in its 100th straight game, Colorado in its 80th straight. The Sooner scoring string of 99 is an unbroken national record although Rutgers is staying up with a long ribbon of 90. Old record was 89, held by Catawba College of Salisbury, N.C. Wofford blanked Catawba 14-0 in 1952 to scissor this string.

A titanic duel of lines looms. Colorado's 209-pound forward wall features Dick "Pinky" Stapp, 205-pound junior guard, a great blocker and defender, Harlon Brandy, a fine pulling guard, Center Bob Karnosak, an excellent linebacker, Tackles Sam Salerno and Bill Kucera, who at 227 and 225 pounds are built like pros and Ends Wally Meyer, 6-4 and 212, and Lamar Meyer, 203.

Hunters Will Get Deer Permits Soon

Nebraska deer hunters will start receiving their deer hunting permits the first week in November, according to a Game Commission spokesman.

Any deer permit applicant that has not been reimbursed with his application money may assume that he will receive a permit. The first of the two deer seasons starts November 29 and continues until December 6 in western part of the state.

The last season starts December 9 and continues until December 13 in the northeastern part.

Scramble Due In Deadlock Pro Loops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The deadlocked Eastern and Western Conferences of the National Football League can be unscrambled Sunday when all 12 teams see action.

Pittsburgh and Cleveland, tied for the top rung in the Eastern section with three victories and one defeat each, face strong opposition in the New York Giants and Green Bay Packers, respectively.

In other games, Detroit is at Los Angeles, the Chicago Bears are at San Francisco, Washington is at Baltimore and Philadelphia plays the Cardinals at Chicago.

The Browns, with the advantage of a home field, rule a 7-point favorite over the Packers who are in a triple tie with Baltimore and Los Angeles for first place in the Western Conference. Each has a 3-1 record.

Pittsburgh, for the fifth straight week, finds itself the underdog, by 3 points, for the game in New York. Philadelphia is a 7½ point favorite to beat the Cardinals, Los Angeles is the same over the Lions, Baltimore is 6 over the Redskins and the 49ers are 4 over the Bears.

The Giants, who lost their first encounter to the Steelers in Pittsburgh, will be without the services of Buford Long, an offensive end and halfback, who was inducted into the Army yesterday. Long, in his third year with the Giants, led the team in kickoff returns and had caught six passes this season good for 64 yards.

Giant Coach Jim Lee Howell said that Kyle Rote, normally an offensive right halfback, would start at right end against the Steelers with Bob Schnelker on the other flank.

The Browns-Packers game figures to be the most vital of the six, since it involves a leader from each conference. Cleveland, winner of three straight after its opening loss to Washington, may find the Packers hard to handle.

The Packers checked the Rams 30-28 last Sunday. They will have Tobin Rote, who threw three touchdown passes against the Rams, gunning for more. They also have in Fred Cone, a field goal kicker comparable to the Brown's Lou Groza.

The Bears, notoriously late starters, finally got their power organized last week to swamp Baltimore 38-10 for their first victory after three defeats. The Bears-49ers game figures to be a battle of lines. George Blanda's accurate arm gives the Bears a shade the better of it over Frisco's Y. A. Tittle.

The winless Lions, sub-par because of injuries, will be fighting to escape a fifth loss and virtual elimination, against Los Angeles. Both teams lost heartbreakers in the closing seconds last Sunday. The Lions were leading 24-20 when the 49ers' Tittle fumbled on fourth down but scooped up the ball and pitched out to Joe Perry, who raced into the end zone for the winning touchdown. The Rams led Green Bay 28-27 with 24 seconds left to play when a 26-yard field goal by Cone spilled them.

The Cardinals, also crippled, don't appear to have much to stop the Eagles. Baltimore fans expect to watch an aerial battle between their own George Shaw and Washington's Eddie LeBaron.

Yank Bats Thunder In Kawasaki Stadium

TOKYO, (Saturday) (AP) — Kawasaki Stadium echoed yesterday to the thunder of Yankee bats — and herds of Japanese school kids.

It was supposed to be a closed workout for the visiting American League champions. But long before the first Yankee homer sailed out of the stadium, the kids and the autograph hunters were upon them.

They swarmed over the dugout and climbed the fences and snapped pictures. They surged over the stands and clapped wildly every time another homer rocketed off the Yankee bats.

Mickey Mantle hit one out of the park that traveled about 360 feet on the fly. Elston Howard hit a couple out of the stadium and Irv Noren parked one in the right field seats.

Japanese Welcome

About 2,000 of the baseball-happy Japanese crowded into Tokyo's Japan Theater last night and welcomed the Yankees between shows with clouds of confetti, firecrackers and flower girls.

A flower girl gave each ball player a bouquet and a dozen soft rubber balls. In 90 seconds flat, the Yankees had scattered the balls to the farthest reaches of the huge theater.

Bob Cerv and Charlie Silvera took good care of the kids in the distant second balcony, where boys and girls scrambled for the balls they pitched to them.

Shortstop Jerry Coleman introduced the team to the crowd. The biggest ovation, complete with screams from bobby soxers, went to Yogi Berra.

Addai Calls A Constructive Ag Plan 'U.S. Top Need'

CHICAGO (INS) — Adlai E. Stevenson sent a message Friday to the Midwest Democratic farm conference in Des Moines, Ia., calling for a constructive farm program which he termed "the nation's number one need."

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate declared that "it becomes more apparent with every passing day that this need will be met only through the leadership of the Democratic Party."

Stevenson said the party's objective for agriculture is "equality with the other parts of our economy." He added:

"Our yardstick for measuring this equality is parity—a formula for fairness based on relating what a farmer gets for what he sells to what he must pay for what he buys. And 90 per cent of what is fair is certainly not unfair or too high.

Income Falling

"Support by government loans at 90 per cent of parity for basic commodities is all the more necessary at the present time when farmers' income is falling and we are moving further away from the goal of equality."

Stevenson declared a constructive farm program must include "incentives for the transfer of unneeded grain acreage into conservation uses."

This means, he said, "encouraging a shift to greater livestock and less cereal production, and building up our soil resources for tomorrow's two hundred million Americans." He added:

"It means using our abundance
